

HEALTH INFLUENCER

HLT36015 - CERT III IN POPULATION HEALTH

Our world is constantly experiencing disease and natural disasters. Chronic diseases like heart disease, stroke, cancer, and depression, as well as natural disasters like floods, fire, drought, and tsunamis are keeping us on our toes. Take a closer look at these situations and events to understand how these impact the people closest to the devastation.

Use your research and understanding to communicate information through media and bring focus to credible facts and data.
